“ Gail, words cannot describe how sorry I am for your loss. I can't even imagine how it would feel to lose a child, and I pray I never will. Know that my heart goes out to you and your family, and you're in my thoughts and prayers.

“ My Dear Isaac, you were always so precious. As a child you always wanted to help animals and loved kitty cats. As an adult you would help anybody you could. I will never forget our last phone conversation...It was about how you could help someone else. Please say hello to my sister Claudette (your maternal Grandmother) I miss her so much. you both will take good care of each other. I will always love you.

“ October 8, 1990 was one of the most happiest days of my life. I was so blessed to be there when you were born and watch you come into this world and take your first breath. And my heart is saddened when you took your last breath. What a hero you are. You live on through many people and they are so blessed to have a part of you. I know that one day after a while we'll see each other again. a short time here an a long time there. I will miss you my peanut but forgotten he will never be I love you.

“ Love you Isaac so much.. This all don't seem real. I remember the first time we drove down to meet yall when I was a few years old. The moment we met you were acting so ignorant like the goofy person you was. From riding 4wheelers together to bicycles, to jumping out of your house windows onto your trampoline.. All my life I've always known of you to help others before yourself you would give the shirt off your back to anyone. You and your family was there for me during some rough times in my life And my family's life. You always said I was your little sister and you were my big brother. Even tho we was 5 hours apart the distance didn't matter because you were always there when I needed you. You will live on through others being a organ donor and that makes you a hero to someone else.
R.I.P Isaac Say hi to your dad from all of us down here.
